

Gonorrhoea

An Easy Read Booklet

Gonorrhoea

Gonorrhoea is a sexually transmitted infection (STI).

It can be easily treated.

If you have unprotected sex (have sex and do not use a condom) you may get Gonorrhoea.

Men and women can get Gonorrhoea.

Most women and some men do not show any symptoms of Gonorrhoea.

Symptoms

If you have any of the following symptoms speak to your doctor or nurse.

Women may have

Discharge from the vagina.

Pain when peeing.

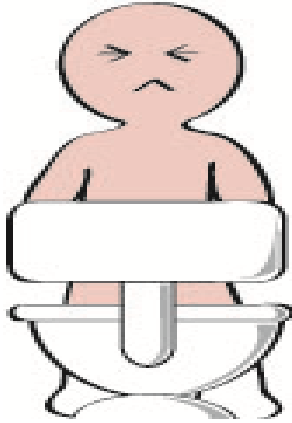

Bleed after sex.

Bleeding may be heavier during periods

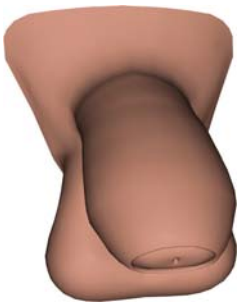

or

You may bleed in between periods.

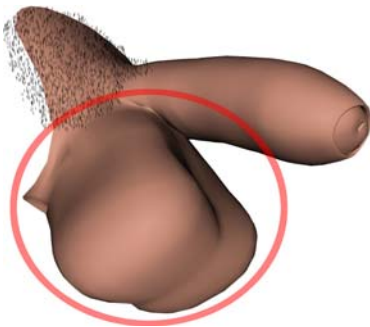

Men may have

Pain when peeing.

Discharge from your penis
(yellow or green in colour).

Pain or swelling in your balls
(testes).

When having sex always use a condom, especially if you have a new partner.

To get free condoms go to The doctor (GP), clinic or chemist.

Or call 0300 303 0243 for your nearest centre.

Acknowledgements – Photosymbols & NHS Lanarkshire Sexual Health Service.

Next Review Oct 2019. NHS Lanarkshire Learning Disability Service.